BLAME WEATHER FOR FAILURE OF RUSSIANS.

Kouropatkin's Attempt to Break Through Oyama's Left Wing Fails.

Gripenberg Notifies the Czar that He Has Discontinued the Offensive—Evacuation of Sandepas Regarded as Great Disaster—Tokio Estimates Russian Losses at Ten Thousand—Hard News for Government.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

S. T. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30, 11:30 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Gen. Kouropatkin's attempt to break through the Japanese left wing and outflank Field Marshal Oyama's position on the Shikoku River has failed entirely. Few details have been received, however, beyond the information contained in the official dispatches.

Field Marshal Oyama, as at the battle on the Shikoku River, appears to have answered the Russian advance with a counter offensive movement, but no great disposition was shown to carry the warfare into the territory held by the Russians.

At the War Office, there is an inclination to lay the chief blame for the failure of the movement to a sudden change of the weather to intense cold (20 degrees below zero) with a high wind, which drifted the snow and rendered it hazardous to expose the troops to camping in the open plain, and also impeded the transportation of guns, supplies and the wounded.

The operation entrusted to the Second Army, under Gen. Gripenberg, was the capture of Sandepas, which, once in Russian hands, would serve as a pivot for a flanking movement against Field Marshal Oyama, but Sandepas proved too hard a nut to crack, and the Japanese, taking advantage of the check of the Russians, hurried up their reinforcements and assumed the offensive on the Hun River, as well as along the railroad and the Great Mandarin road. The Russians, however, appear to have been completely successful on the defensive, repulsing all the Japanese attacks.

Under the circumstances, Gen. Gripenberg decided not to press the attempt to storm Sandepas, which is situated in a flat country, and therefore more difficult to take by assault than a position in a hilly country.

Owing to the flat trajectory and the enormous penetration of modern projectiles, the capture of the outer line of trenches on Thursday entailed heavy casualties. There is no official estimate of losses, but it is expected that some thousands on both sides were killed or wounded.

The news of this defeat, coming at this time, is especially hard for the government. The popular idea continues to be that the advance was undertaken in order to divert attention of the people from the events in European Russia.

RUSSIAN ADVANCE FAILS.

GRIPENBERG NOTIFIED CAZAR.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

S. T. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30, 8:30 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Russian advance movement against the Japanese left has failed and Gen. Gripenberg has notified the Emperor that he has discontinued the offensive.

Gen. Mischchenko and Gen. Kondratyev, while not seriously injured, have been obliged to relinquish their commands.

The War Office gives no estimate of the Russian losses, but they are believed heavy.

RUSSIANS LOST TEN THOUSAND.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

TOKIO, Jan. 30, 5 p.m.—The casualties during the fighting at Cheneh-pao and Helkotal are estimated at five thousand on the side of the Japanese and ten thousand on the Russian side.

CONSIDERED GREAT DISASTER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Sun's Paris special taken on a distinctly political character through the influence of independentists of those not belonging there. These are southern Russians who came to Riga under government enticement to Russia the Polytechnic Institute. They were heard in the streets shouting "The war must end with the Czar!" "Largest constitution!" "Long live the Czar!" "Hurray for the Czar!" on this basis.

A victim killed 27,182 inches display in 1904 over 1903.

Can double the amount gained by other San Francisco daily.

When the soldiers fired on the crowd many rushed down the rocky shore to escape across the river on the ice, which broke, engulfing them. A snow storm was prevailing at the time and the temperature sank rapidly, causing the river to freeze over again, and, consequently, no bodies have been recovered.

The movement, the latter says, wounded in the knee. The heaviest sufferers were the newly-arrived brigade of riflemen.

The official report of the fighting at Houtaiday and Hupounds, January 25 and January 26, says the losses there were forty-five officers and 1050 men.

A hundred Japanese prisoners have arrived here. They belonged to the Ninth Division, before Fort Arthur. The wounded are suffering from the cold.

OBJECT OF OPERATIONS.

NOT CLEARLY UNDERSTOOD.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

TOKIO, Jan. 30, 1:30 a.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Russian activity on the Shikoku River seemed to have ceased after the fight at Cheneh-pao and Helkotal, where the Japanese were victorious. The object of the operations is not clearly understood here, but it is suggested that the Russians either intended to turn the Japanese left and move a heavy force down west of the Liao River, or were seeking to divert attention from some projected operation against the Japanese right.

The Tokio press expresses the opinion that Gen. Kouropatkin ordered the movement either to divert attention from domestic conditions in Russia, or that he had planned to make a fight before Field Marshal Oyama had been heavily reinforced.

Manchurian army headquarters, telegraphing yesterday, says: "There has been no great change in the direction of the right center army since the night of January 25, except constant collision between reconnoitering parties. In the direction of the left army, the enemy keeps up a slow but constant cannonade."

The enemy's main body at Cheneh-pao and Helkotal seems to have retreated in the direction of Matny-pao, which is two miles west of Changtan and Subangal. At a point ten miles northwest of Changtan, the enemy left many dead.

The details of the fighting at Cheneh-pao and Helkotal have not yet been reported.

STRENGTH OF JAPANESE.

RUSSIANS SEEM SATISFIED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

MUKDEN, Jan. 29, via Tientsin, Jan. 30.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Official reports published in the army newspaper show that the entire east was undisturbed except by small scouting affairs during the fighting at Helkotal and Cheneh-pao.

The army is now working under new organization and entirely new orders throughout, those even affecting the newspaper correspondents most vigorously.

The creation of increased fortification in the center by both armies, resulting in both sides heaping their reinforcements on their flanks, reaches a point where that side falling behind will slowly be forced to precipitate a battle.

The present state of affairs is apparently due to the clear, cold weather.

The Japanese have advanced every available man to the front. It is reported that Liao Yang is deserted by soldiers.

The railroad of Liao Yang is strongly held, and especially the bridges, which the Cosacks report unapproachable on account of the armament of the former Russian defenses and the supplementary Japanese work.

POLES SHOOT FROM HOUSES.

Situation in Warsaw Goes from Bad to Worse.

Number of Casualties Over One Hundred.

Hundreds of Revolutionists Drowned at Riga.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
ASSOCIATED PRESS HEAD-QUARTERS (N. Y.) Jan. 30.—While there seems to have been a complete cessation of order in St. Petersburg and Moscow, conditions at Warsaw continue to grow from bad to worse. Estimates of the killed and wounded as a consequence of collisions between soldiers and soldiers place the number at 180.

The bakers being on strike, bread is at famine prices in Warsaw, and attempts to break into stores there have caused numerous collisions with the military.

The finding of revolvers of uniform rank on many of the rioters arrested shows confirmation of recent reports that revolutionary agitators have been smuggling arms, in anticipation of an outbreak.

It is asserted that the official tale of the dead through the recent conflict between the strikers and troops at Riga is far short of the actuality, many having perished in an attempt to cross the river on the ice, when the soldiers opened fire, the ice breaking and the water engulfing the fugitives.

WARSAW MOB GROWING.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
LONDON, Jan. 31.—The correspondent at Warsaw of the Daily Mail telegraphs as follows:

"The street railway service has been partly resumed, with soldiers riding behind and behind most of the cars. Few cars are running. Street fighting continues, and the mob is growing in dangerous fashion. There have been heavy collisions between the people and the soldiers. Revolutionaries attacked the troops with revolvers and knives. The principal disturbances today occurred in Nowinski street, a leading business thoroughfare."

"At 11 o'clock Sunday night, a regiment of infantry marched to this thoroughfare from Smolna street, where somebody fired upon them, whereupon the troops were ordered to form a square and fire from four sides."

"Any criticism of the troops must be qualified by the fact that they are fighting under trying conditions, being constantly exposed to snipers and occasionally stabbed by passers-by. Generally, the troops are well behaved, but sometimes there are excesses by individual soldiers who have become intoxicated. One such soldier killed two children before his comrades were able to disarm him."

"There have been many and cases of wholly innocent people shot accidentally as they turned street corners. There are rumors that hundreds have been killed in fighting in the suburban towns; but I have personally investigated every such report and learned that there has been a comparatively small death toll.

"FIRING FROM HOUSES.
"Fighting was renewed this morning, people firing from their houses on the troops."

"I cannot find a single shop unharmed. All have been plundered and most of them have been burned."

"A mob of desperate and hungry women tried to thrust soldiers' bayonets aside, to get into a bakery. The guard proved good natured and avoided hurting the women. I am accustomed to the sight of misery, but the haggard, starving wretchedness of these women will haunt me to my dying day."

"The troops and people had a little pitched battle here before the military rule was established. Even now, the slightest weakening of the military would result in an immediate recurrence of violence."

"The situation, on the whole, has not improved. The rioters avoid open conflict, but seize every opportunity to wreak sly vengeance on the troops. Many people are afraid to venture into the streets, but young women of the lower and middle classes court danger in the worst disturbances merely for the love of excitement."

"Food is almost unobtainable and bread is at famine prices. The ambulances are busy day and night. God help Warsaw."

RESUMES NORMAL ASPECT.
SITUATION IN ST. PETERSBURG.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30.—St. Petersburg has outwardly resumed its normal condition, but 50,000 troops are still alert to suppress any renewal of the trouble. A bomb was hurled at the residence of Gov. Siniavov of St. Petersburg, and the house was partly demolished. The Governor was absent.

Mobs are said to have burst open the prisons at Simferopol, in the Crimea, and at Revel, setting all political prisoners free.

At Moscow, a crowd marched to the Kremlin, where Grand Duke Sergius has taken refuge, and threw a bomb, which burst at the foot of the Kremlin's walls.

All Poland is in revolt, and a state of siege has been declared at Warsaw. An official report from Warsaw admits that there were 100 persons killed or wounded in the fight there Sunday between the strikers and troops.

Father Gopon has escaped into Sweden.

DAY OF PERFECT QUIET.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30, 11:45 p.m.—The day here was passed in perfect quiet. Interest has been transferred entirely from St. Petersburg and Moscow to Warsaw, Lodz and Lubau, where a state of siege has been proclaimed.

Warsaw is the chief center of interest on account of the rioting there on Sunday and Sunday night, in which at least 100 persons were killed or wounded. The strikes continue unabated and business is paralyzed, but there was better order during today.

In Warsaw, however, the crisis is by no means passed and there is great apprehension here with regard to what the night may bring forth.

BOMBS THROWN IN PARIS.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
PARIS, Jan. 30.—A meeting was held this evening in the Tivoli, Vauxhall, to protest against the Russian autocracy. It was under the auspices of the revolutionary Socialist groups and 6000 persons were present. Deputies Jaures, Vaillant and Depressens spoke. The police were in strong force outside.

During the exit of the audience into Avenue de la Republique, a bomb was thrown into the center of the group of police of Republican Guards, in which stood Prefect Lepine and other high officials. None of these was hurt, but two guards were wounded and many windows broken.

The bomb was loaded with big-headed, boot nails. Two men have been arrested, one of them a law student, on the belief that they were the authors of the crime.

MANY KILLED AT WARSAW.
CITY'S LIFE AT STANDSTILL.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
WARSAW (Russian Poland) Jan. 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The number of killed or wounded here during the night is estimated at 160. Out of door life in the city is at a complete standstill. All the restaurants, cafes and shops are closed. By order of the Governor-General, Warsaw, Lodz and Petrovsk have been placed under military law. The government buildings and large factories are guarded by troops. Part of the electric light plant has been destroyed by strikers. The streets have been quiet since yesterday evening, but the strike continues in full swing. All places of business are placid.

MILITARY PATROL KIEFF.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30.—At Kieff, several big machine shops and engineering works are idle owing to the strike, and the bakeries are partially closed. The price of bread has risen. The military are patrolling the streets.

At Mitau, there have been some disorders and a police superintendent was wounded. The troops there have not yet used their arms.

A battery of artillery and a battalion of troops have been dispatched from Vilna to Libau.

BOMB FOR RUSSIAN ATTACHE.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
PARIS, Jan. 30.—The police early today discovered a bomb in front of the house of Prince Troubetzkoy, an attaché of the Russian Embassy here. Attached to the bomb was a tube containing a lighted fuse. The police extinguished the fuse and informed the authorities, who are investigating.

ITALIANS PLEAD FOR GORKY.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
ROME, Jan. 30.—A number of deputies signed a memorial in the Chamber of Deputies today asking the government to use its good offices with the Russian government to save the life of Maxim Gorky and his companions.

RESUMPTION AT CAPITAL.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 30, 12:28 p.m.—Most of the factories and mills of St. Petersburg are in operation today. The strike, to all intents and purposes, is ended. A few large establishments have not yet fully resumed operations.

DEMONSTRATION IN NEW YORK.
CROWD SINGS "MARSEILLAISE."
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—After the meeting in the Academy of Music which was addressed by John DeWitt Warner and others, last night, 1500 men and women sympathizers with Russian freedom, who had been in the theater, marched to the Russian Consul's office in Broad street, where for half an hour they sang the "Marseillaise" and shouted revolutionary slogans. A great demonstration took place in front of the Academy when the crowd poured into the street. Cries of "Down with the autocrats!" and "Kill the Czar!" were heard.

Someone suggested that the crowd form in line and march to the Russian Consul's office. This programme was enthusiastically agreed upon and soon a line of excited men and women extended for blocks along Fourteenth street. They marched to Second avenue and thence down through the East Side, shouting and singing as they went.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 30.—W. V. Daly, a prominent mining engineer and mine owner, arriving from Miami, Fla., says the Yaqui situation is very serious. There are probably three hundred Yaquis out, divided into many bands. Depredations lately have been confined to Cochise district. The Indians are well armed, according to Daly, are killing Americans and Mexicans without discrimination. Twenty people, including a four-year-old Mexican American, have been killed in the district within the week.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Masonic Ball.

The ball of Pacific Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will be held at Kramer's Thursday evening February 2, instead of on Washington's birthday.

Not Their Letter.

On the complaint of Postal Inspector Frank Stewart, D. Munson and E. H. Gangel were arrested yesterday at Needles. They are charged with having forged a signature to obtain from the mails a letter to William Swonger, at Riverside. The mislaid contained $10 in cash.

Juan Moreno's Trouble.

Juan Clemente Moreno, who despite his youthful and gothic name is charged with having committed perjury in the Felix case, will be tried in the United States court about the middle of February. Bail was fixed yesterday at $2000, and in default of this Señor Moreno remains in jail.

Backed into a Car.

When two gardeners were harnessing a horse at Ninth street and Burlington avenue last evening about 8 o'clock, the animal became frightened at an approaching car and backed across the track. Another car from the opposite direction struck the animal with such force that it was thrown all most to the middle of the sidewalk and both its hind legs broken. Special Officer Foster was called and at the request of the driver the animal to put it out of its misery.

Portland Booming.

Charles L. Wilson, Frank Wiggins's able assistant, has arrived at Portland, and writes back that exposition matters are progressing in excellent shape. The California exhibits promise to surpass all records in excellence. A peculiar note is that in the shipment of California exhibits occasional bottles or parcels in packages will be completely frozen, while the remainder of the package is untouched. Wilson and Wiggins are both unable to account for this strange natural freak.

Buying and Building.

J. W. Beardsley has purchased of A. R. Cross, through W. J. Bryant, probably for an association of local investors, which includes some well-known real estate agents, a plot of ground on the north side of Eleventh street, extending from San Pedro to San Julian streets, fronting about 270 feet on the first lot and 100 feet on the second and 100 feet on the last named thoroughfare, without the improvements, which consist of frame buildings that belong to tenants; consideration named, $23,000. Mrs. E. L. Bennett has purchased of William Philip, the owner, the site of the new building, 5x150 feet, unimproved, on the west side of Westlake avenue, eighty-six feet northeast of Alvarado street, and will erect a handsome residence on the property at a total expenditure stated of about $5000.

Their clients are among the most influential concerns in the West. Some good eastern business for western papers is also handled by them. They have been very successful in developing small accounts.

SALOON MAN LOSES CASE.

COURT GIVES POOR COMFORT TO BOOZE SELLER.

Kern County Judge Refuses Mandate Compelling City Trustees to Issue License and Likewise Declines to Throttle City Recorder Before Whom Cases Are Pending.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 20.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] So far as judicial proceedings are concerned in Kern county, the cases of Carl Withington, the saloon man, against the Board of City Trustees and of Withington against City Recorder S. W. Mahon, are out of court.

Judge Bennett has very promptly denied the application of the petitioner for a writ of mandate against the board to compel the issuance of a license to him, and he has just as promptly denied the application for a writ of injunction against the City Recorder.

The injunction sought would restrain the City Recorder from trying the cases now pending in which the selling of liquor without a license is charged and would also restrain the Recorder from the issuance of further warrants of arrest.

MRS. WELLS' GOLD SPIKE UNITES SALT LAKE LINES.

Last Rail to Close Gap in Newest Steel Pathway Across Desert Laid Yesterday Afternoon—Strange and Stirring Scenes at the Front.

BY HARRY C. CARR.
[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SIDING NO. 41, ON THE SALT LAKE RAILROAD, IN THE DESERT, TWENTY MILES ACROSS THE NEVADA LINE, Jan. 30.—The last spike was unceremoniously whacked into the last tie of the Salt Lake road at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon by a bullet-headed Greek born in the shadow of the Acropolis.

Alas, 'twas not golden, but molded of humble Pittsburgh pig iron.

With the horror of his kind for a possum, Chief Engineer Tilton cut out all the program.

Had it not been for the wife of General Manager Wells, it all would have been as devoid of sentiment as buying stale bread.

She went on a tiny spike of gold, not larger than a man's thumb nail. After the Greek had the last rail whacked in place, Mr. Tilton guiltily fished the gold trinket out of his vest pocket, and punched it into the last tie.

The Greeks and Austrians on the Nevada end set up a yell, answered by a melancholy whoop from the Mexicans who built the California side.

IT'S A TEMPORARY TRACK.

A car can now run direct from Los Angeles to Salt Lake City.

Before the road is open to regular traffic, several changes will be made. About twelve miles of the present track will be abandoned. A shorter piece of track, through a tunnel and some difficult rock cuts, will be substituted for the track now running into Las Vegas Valley.

When this addition is patched on, there will be ceremonies. Although the soil, untouched by plow, lies mile after mile in the bottom, ready to be taken by whomever will.

Towns are already springing up, headed by the frontier grog shop. Lots are being staked out, houses going up, water developed.

In this vastness, there is room for a nation.

THREE MONTHS' CHANGE.

Three months ago, not a living soul was in all this wilderness; as far as the eye could reach was only an aching desolation, homes for coyotes, jack-rabbits and rattlesnakes.

Miners sometimes ventured through, but it cost a fortune to mine. A man at the head of Death Valley, now made accessible, had to pay $7 a barrel for his water, $80 per ton for barley. Frequently, in sandstorms, the barley would be eaten up by the transportation teams before they could get back from civilization with the load.

The riches laid bare are tremendous as of Solomon's mines; but they are not for the pioneers, whose hard work and better suffering has at last shackled the desert in bands of steel. These are already folding up their tents to steal away.

Every train is taking out stock and horses; rusty Fresno scrapers are being packed on flat cars; soiled tent the stillness of the desert; Fresno scrapers and braying mules.

Following came the track layers, with the great engines tumbling out ties in enormous bundles, rails shooting out with incredible swiftness; then the ballasting crews, the "surfacing gangs" embedding the ties in firm earth.

Behind these the trains bearing pile drivers to replace the temporary bridges, each gang a class, a stratum of society, a little world unto itself.

Came the commissary department dropping kitchens and dining-rooms in the wilderness; came the operating department, drawing complete little railroad office bureaus in condemned cars to be switched onto sidings with telegraph lines, train masters' stenographers, clacking train orders, flimsy train slips, filing cases, boyish clerks, detail maps, train dispatchers.

Came after these, the "crawling freight," the gangs to dig wells, the carpenters to build section houses, the painters and the plasterers. And at last the ubiquitous drummer bearing samples of the finest article for sale on this earth.

A CHEERING LIGHT.

About two weeks ago, the man who sits atop of the track-laying machine saw a faint smoke over a hill toward California; he gave a loud whoop; the end was in sight; the smoke came from the funnels of the engines pushing the road in from the Golden State.

Since that day the road has been rushed through with astonishing swiftness; the day's work has run from a mile and three-quarters to two miles a day.

ACTUAL MEETING PLACE.

The actual meeting of the builders took place this afternoon about four miles out from Siding 41, and about twenty miles across the Nevada line, on a rise overlooking a famous mirage of Forty-niner days, known as Dry Lake.

ALONG THE ROUTE

ADMINISTRATION TRAIN

line will then have been in constant use for several months, the Salt Lake City Council and maybe the Council of this city will get up an official golden spike laying.

THE FIRST TRAIN.

The first train that crossed the gap was not a millionaire's palace on wheels, but the battered-up old track-laying machine, which has suffered the stress and strain of the desert in its awful heat and freezing storms.

Although the pioneers who have forced this road through the trackless wilderness have got their orders from day to day in five different languages, the end of it was characteristically and deliciously Yankee.

It was one of the biggest events in desert railroading since the building of the first transcontinental line.

It opens to the world a territory of fabulous richness. The valleys through which the new road runs are almost rotten with ore.

Already there are signs of a mad mining rush. Prospectors are hurrying to the scene even on the construction trains, sitting with their ore picks among bridge materials and mule colars on the cars.

Tiffany has turquoise mines within sight of the roadbed; the famous Providence mines lie near Ivanpah lies a white path in the valley to the left. Splendid agricultural lands, virgin homes are coming down in rumbled heaps; toll-worn workers are drawing their pay checks and going away.

In three months a dozen towns have sprung up; in three weeks they will have gone again; the valley, now crawling with innumerable teams and dotted with men in every direction, will look like a sawdust circus ring the day after.

There are other roads to be built and other hardships to be suffered. The vanguard has moved on; the sheltered folk may now whirl in where the pioneers have tramped so wearily and reap the prizes.

HOT AS HADES.

Eighteen months ago, a gang of the Greeks and Austrians began working in the pitiless heat of Caliente on the Nevada Desert, following the survey lines.

It was so hot that twenty-two of them dropped senseless in one day. At night, men stripped to the skin, moaned and turned in their effort to sleep, running rivers of sweat, until the hell next day.

Meanwhile gangs of Mexicans and Americans were starting the other end of the road at Daggett, Cal., an old town created many years ago as a trading post for the old Calico mines.

They worked through picturesque vividly painted valleys, out past the old Roach camp, standing like a sentinel to Death Valley.

First came the engineers with their transits; then the graders with giant steam shovels, powder blasts disturbing the stillness of the desert; Fresno scrapers and braying mules.

Following came the track layers, with the great engines tumbling out ties in enormous bundles, rails shooting out with incredible swiftness; then the ballasting crews, the "surfacing gangs" embedding the ties in firm earth.

Behind these the trains bearing pile drivers to replace the temporary bridges, each gang a class, a stratum of society, a little world unto itself.

Came the commissary department dropping kitchens and dining-rooms in the wilderness; came the operating department, drawing complete little railroad office bureaus in condemned cars to be switched onto sidings with telegraph lines, train masters' stenographers, clacking train orders, flimsy train slips, filing cases, boyish clerks, detail maps, train dispatchers.

they spotted their victims, surrounded them and then hustled and robbed them before they recovered from their confusion.

MORE BOOTY FOUND.

When the three men were arrested they were searched and it was supposed $70 found in their pockets was all the money they had. It was known they had stolen several hundred dollars.

While the men were talking to the detectives Sunday, one of them dropped a remark about having some money. They were stripped and the officers found nearly $500 in currency concealed in their clothing.

More than $200 was sewed in the lining of Harrison's coat. Burns had nearly $200 in $20 bills sewed in the waistband of his trousers. The money had been folded, ironed smooth and then placed in the waistband. Only the fact that the stitching was crude led to the discovery.

Two of the prisoners have agreed to plead guilty when their cases come to trial. Their confessions have been taken down and can be used as evidence against them.

The steamer David Evans, owned by the Pacific Shipping Company of San Francisco, ran aground near Point No Point while bound to San Diego from Everett with a cargo of lumber and piles. The vessel is not badly damaged. High winds and strong tide carried the craft ashore.

The line of symmetrical hills, veers around them and is seen no more.

One of these dreary God-forsaken mountains figures in the recent prospectus of a new boom town as "heavily wooded heights." The fact is, even sage brush refuses to grow there.

The long vista is broken by antlike moving specks in the far distance, where scores upon scores of grading teams are at work; by the big tows of house cars, the administration buildings and bunk rooms of the station now known as Siding 31, soon to be called Good Springs.

In a general way the roadbed follows one of the old Forty-niner trails which ran from water hole to water hole through the parched desert.

Every mile of the route has been punctuated by heart aches, hopes that were blasted, struggling ox teams that sank moaning to die, suffering untold, tantalizing lakes mocking afar off the argonauts dying of thirst.

FOURTH "DIP" IS ARRESTED.

Quartette of Clever Pickpockets Now in Limbo.

Remaining Member of Gang Taken at San Diego.

Companions Confess and Plunder is Recovered.

The fourth member of the quartette of professional pickpockets who a few days ago robbed a San Bernardino man on a Santa Fe train and who have committed nearly all the really big "dip" jobs reported here since Christmas, has been captured. With him the detectives have recovered many stolen watches and other jewelry.

The man, whose name is not known here, was arrested in San Diego and thither went Detective Talamantes yesterday to bring him back. It is known that the prisoner was a pal of the three men arrested last Thursday and identified by several of their victims.

Names given by the three men are John Downey, William Burns and J. Harrison, but under other names two of them served terms in San Quentin penitentiary. The third is believed to be a professional crook from the East. The detectives had started an investigation into his record, when a complete confession by all of the men rendered it unnecessary.

TELL OF CRIME.

The confession came unexpectedly. The men told their connection with various crimes committed here; told where they had secreted their booty and who was their companion.

In their confession the prisoners told the officers that their companion had gone to San Diego and that two suit cases, containing the proceeds of several robberies, would be shipped to him there.

Telling of the robbery on the Santa Fe train, the men say they held other passengers off while the men captured in San Diego searched their victim. Later they divided the money. As to robberies on street cars en route from the depots, the crooks told how they spotted their victims, surrounded them and then hustled and robbed them before they recovered from their confusion.

The family is well known from one end of the State to the other, and although she is wealthy, she does not make a vain show. In San Francisco, few social affairs are considered complete without her presence. Although her sister, Miss Alice, has visited in this city a number of times, this is the first time Miss Ethel has ventured south since her coming here. She has many friends here and is sure to be the object of much social attention. For Saturday evening, Mrs. John E. Mr. Daniels expected to leave soon for the East, but will return to make this city his home.

POLICE REWARDED. Yesterday was a red-letter day for Police Captain Anderson, who for Chief Freeman, but not quite so red for the latter as for the former. The City Commissioners unanimously voted to increase the salary of Chief Freeman to $1100 a year. Chief Freeman was authorized to accept the check for $1000 tendered by William R. These are the faithful officials rewarded for the good work they did in running down the thieves and capturing the plunder that figured in the Eddy jewel robbery at Hotel Maryland.

A friend of the family writes Chief Freeman for locating the couple. Dr. Frank H. Parker of Walden, Mass., is the man who is looking for information, and he says that the McLeans are understood to be in straitened circumstances, and that Mrs. McLean has been canvassing for a book firm. If anybody knows their whereabouts, a favor might be conferred by communicating with the police.

MORE CHARIOT RACER. Plans are being promulgated for a day of sports to be held at Tournament Park on Washington's birthday. F. V. Ryder is one of the most enthusiastic promoters of the idea, and he hopes to stir the enthusiasm of several of the Ben Hur who engaged in the chariot races on New Year's Day. The Tournament of Roses Association is divided in opinion as to whether the sports would be a good thing at this time, but it is probable that Ryder and others will go ahead with them, whether the association indorses the project or not.

THE DAY'S ORIST. St. Edmund Marie gave a song cycle "The Trend of Time," last night at Kink's Hall. A number of society ladies were patronesses.

Among his possessions were some city lots on which were lemon trees in bearing, and it was no unusual sight for the old gentleman to be seen on the streets carrying a basket and offering lemons for sale. The bulk of his fortune he left to his son, who in turn left it to his widow, who had no children. Being a sufferer from heart trouble she knew that her end was near, and during the past few weeks she took much comfort in superintending the packing of the extensive medical libraries that had been collected by her husband and his father during their busy lives in the practice of their profession.

These she presented in the past few weeks to such young ambitious medical students of her acquaintance as she thought would appreciate them. In this way she sent out hundreds of valuable volumes. To her faithful maid and companion, she recently made a present of $1000. The one thus rewarded was Bertha Shurtlag, who had ministered to her wants during the past five or six years and was with her when the final summons came.

Only a few weeks ago she gave an endowment of $5000 to the University of Minnesota. This fund is to go toward providing books for the young men whose means would not otherwise permit them to obtain a college education.

Joseph R. LaBarge has also been remembered. To him she presented her carriage horse, buggy and robes. What disposition she made of the bulk of her fortune by will is not known, although it may be expected that she will leave a large part for friends and charities, since she was a woman of benevolent nature and without relatives, so far as is known. She received this reward from Mass., fifty-two years ago. Her remains will be sent to Minneapolis for burial.

GOLD SPIKE

trudged in those days can be seen from the car windows, winding along the summit of the hills, that curtain the route from the hideous Death Valley. The route is the "Government Hole," which was an early-day oasis. One of the old stage stations still lies there, a relic of the past.

Local tradition insists that one of the mountains along the route marks one of the Lewis and Clark trails.

The route parades of something of the mystic picturesqueness of New Mexican landscapes.

The Track Laying Machine's Last Hump and the Golden Spike.

Part of the way it cuts suddenly into a succession of wild mountain passes. The mountains are painted in glowing colors. It goes through a tumble of giant hills, a series of prodigious peaks which wouldn't have any speeches at the spike pounding.

An engineer of a more romantic nation would have thrown a statue trying to find station names sentimental enough to fit the mystically beautiful surroundings of "The Devil's Playground."

These Yankee engineers hunted up names for stations that would be practical to telegraph in train orders. They gradually consented to name a few after prominent men whom the railroad owners wished to honor.

TOWN NAMES.

The town on the edge of the Cañon of Calves, which strikes one with the awe of its wild beauty they have named Epon; there's another at the entrance of Death Valley, where a mountain stands a grim sentry; they called it Borax. The towns gave out before they got a chance to name any future city Casacore.

They called one which overlooks the desert valley, "Flynn." Fancy some future orange man going to live in Flynn. By some oversight, there is no town named O'Hoolihan.

But after all, it would have come as a far to have these pioneers christening towns with names that sound like Pullman sleeping cars.

THE ENGINEERS.

The chief engineer of the road is E. O. Tilton. He is like Marion Crawford, the novelist, and would probably show light if anybody said he looked like a novelist. He is lean, wiry, quick-spoken and nervous, constantly talking at his driving machine. He has the grin, humorous cynicism that so often goes with his type.

A Times reporter had the good for-who has his headquarters train at 1:45 at the top of the grade.

THE ONLY WOMAN.

In this official city of cars there is one car prettier than all the others; in it lives the only woman on the whole construction line. She is the young wife of D. Ogden, the trainmaster. She has gone with him from railroad to railroad, always living in the cars. She is a stunning surprise. Her gowns are pretty and in style; her hair is in the latest mode; she reads the best books; hunts, is a crack shot; knows all about engineering, "borrow" files, way slips, pile drivers and other things foreign to womankind.

This little train city is the "soldiers of Fortune" over again, and she's the Hope Langdon. At enormous expense of section houses, now partly up, construction of quarters for the division headquarters at Las Vegas and Daggett, the plant, now partly up at Las Vegas.

Bridges are yet to be built at certain points along the road, or rather to be strengthened.

Some of the ditch work will be done by the present contractors, Scherer and Crowley of this city. Where the track has been finished, the ballasting, etc., is done by the company.

men, an ex-Annapolis cadet, and a young Englishman, who has held the Queen's commission, and has "run his own six horses."

Old Woo, the cook, is the gammer pole; he's in the valley, and one of the unfortunates.

Down the line are characters enough to fill books, Irish benders whose orders one snapping the drill sergeants and who take it straight, old German engine hostlers, who have learned railroading in the old country, where their army records got them their jobs; bloodthirsty Mexicans, decayed gentlemen keeping store - tents for contractors, clean, young boys doing the same.

We offer you an opportunity to share in the profits of one of the most remarkable gold mining companies today. The GOLDFIELD-HERALD MINING COMPANY's land consists of 2 1/2 claims of 50 acres, adjoining several of the richest and most prosperous properties in the northeast field of GOLDFIELD. Every indication evidences an enormous strike, which when found will put the stock of this company quickly at a great increase in value. A rich dyke is found, rich in gold, extending clear across our property. It is believed that when this is properly worked it will result in our property being as rich as some of our neighbors'. It is conceded by mining men in GOLDFIELD that our property is one of the best in the field and requires but development to produce great results.

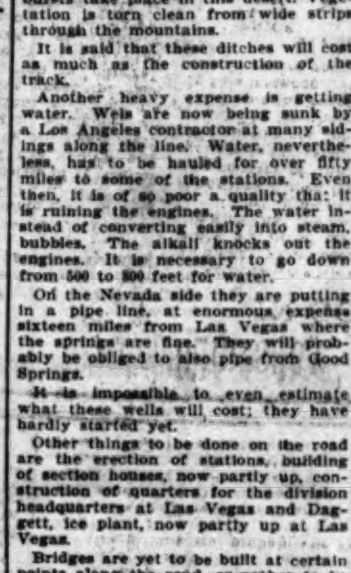

If you would take advantage of one of the opportunities to share in the GOLDFIELD property that's destined to have a successful future we urge you to apply at once for further literature regarding this property. The present price of this stock is $16 a share. It will be advanced to 1 cent on Thursday evening, 2 o'clock. If you have not time to write us today for a reservation of stock.

Thursday, February 2, Last Day of 2c Stock IN GOLDFIELD-HERALD MINING CO.

In accordance with our previous predictions that the price of shares in the Goldfield-Herald Mining Company would soon advance in price, Thursday, February 2, is the date on which this stock will go off the market at the low price of two and one-half cents a share, it being estimated that the entire allotment at this price will then have been entirely disposed of. Just think of what we are offering you! An interest in a company that will, after February 2, own free and clear this large acreage of land located in the greatest gold mining country of the age, adjoining claims where ore is being found that runs hundreds of dollars to the sack. Was ever a better investment offered at such a remarkably low figure? We answer you, no.

The Southwestern Securities Company not only shows its faith in this property when it accepts the responsibility of placing the stock on the market, but it has gone still further in this instance. It has invested its own money in the proposition which without a doubt should assure you of absolute certainty that the property will be a dividend paying one.

What We Guarantee

That the 50 acres of ground controlled by the Goldfield-Herald Mining Company will be purchased and paid for in cash February 2. That no debts will be incurred. That reports of actual conditions will be made regularly to each stockholder. That each stockholder will receive his full and equal rights according to the amount of stock held. That the work of developing these claims will be commenced within a short time and will be pushed until the company is on a dividend paying basis. That the company is incorporated with a capital stock of 1,500,000 shares, each with a par value of $1, fully paid and forever non-assessable. That unlike many other companies, none of the money received from stock sales is devoted to promotion purposes. All is treasury stock and money obtained from stock sales, not including that used for purchasing the land, will be used for development work until whatever time the output places the mine on a paying basis. Please remember that you have but a very short time in which to get in on this remarkable offer before the price of shares is advanced, which will be on Thursday of this week.
